EARLY CHILDHOOD COURSE

Introduction
The Early Childhood course provides a comprehensive preparation for adults who wish to work with children ages 2 ½ through 6 years of age in multi-age groupings, using Montessori materials.

Children at this age level are ready to expand their horizons beyond the home. They are refining large and fine motor coordination, as well as practical and social skills, and they are developing concentration, a sense of order, reasoning and awareness. They benefit from interactions with other children and adults in a specially prepared environment that provides them with freedom to explore a wide variety of interesting materials.

Summer Academic Phase (8 weeks)
This full-time program includes lectures, demonstrations, discussions, workshops and practice sessions. Students prepare detailed manuals of lesson plans in each curriculum area, practice giving lessons using specific learning materials, and design and make their own materials for classroom use.

Instructors are supportive and bring a diversity of styles and expertise to their classes. This is an intensive and highly rewarding experience.

Course Components

Practicum Year Seminars
During the student teaching practicum phase, students participate in four weekend seminars. Seminars include classes and performance assessments and are also welcomed as a reunion by both students and instructors.

Student Teaching Practicum (9 months)
The student teaching practicum is a key component of the student’s preparation to be a teacher. Generally, the student is paid a stipend as an assistant to the classroom teacher or, in some cases, a salary as a lead teacher.

The student teaching practicum site (school) must be approved by MECR. American Montessori Society affiliated schools are preferred.

In special circumstances, the student may be responsible for the class and undertake a self-directed student teaching practicum. A self-directed practicum is not recommended and must be approved by the MECR Director.

A MECR field consultant maintains regular contact with the student teacher, including three on-site visits to observe the student working in the classroom. At least five visits are required for self-directed practicum students and there is an additional fee of $800.

MECR provides assistance in finding a practicum position. Final arrangements are the responsibility of the student and the participating school.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES
The number of Montessori schools continues to grow throughout the United States in both the public and private sectors. As a result, there is a demand for professional, competent teachers, who have completed high quality training courses.

MECR serves as an informal clearinghouse for job opportunities throughout the year. Current listings are displayed in the student lounge and on our website. The American Montessori Society also maintains a computerized placement service and publishes regular salary surveys. MECR does not offer a formal placement assistance program and cannot guarantee employment, occupational advancement or a specific salary.

STATE OF COLORADO
Early Childhood Teacher Qualification
The Montessori Education Center of the Rockies Early Childhood course is approved by the Colorado Department of Human Services for Early Childhood Teacher (formerly Group Leader) qualification.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
Teachers who hold AMS credentials issued after July 1, 2013 are required to document fifty (50) contact hours of professional development every five (5) years to maintain active status of the AMS teaching credential. MECR partners with Endicott College and students are invited to obtain graduate credit for their Montessori training through The Institute for Educational Studies (TIES) at Endicott College. See the link on our website and download the Flyer. Also, Endicott has started a new Bachelor Degree program that is geared toward Montessori teachers. Students can receive up to 30 credits towards their degree for previous Montessori training. Contact Dr. Laura Douglass, ldouglass@endicott.edu or view the website: www.endicott.edu/gps
